

Portals of Promise

East meets West in harmony and peace photography by Laurent Weichberger

The First Friday Artwalk has become a cultural tradition in Flagstaff. On the first Friday of January, at the restaurant La Bellavia, please join us for the exhibit, Portals of Promise: East meets West in harmony and peace, a selection of photographs by Weichberger from his travels in India, the islands of Greece, and the Oregon coast. India has long represented the spiritual traditions of the Far East, while Greece is clearly the threshold to the East. The spectacular Oregon coast and its a variety of natural offerings are presented as an homage to the American Northwest. These three locations are placed side by side to show that East and West can indeed live up to the promise of harmonious coexistence in the modern age.
